Notes from the Sky Pilot's Page

October 2019

The elevator speech – in other words, if you had someone's undivided attention while patiently riding an elevator for, say, 20 floors- how would you describe our church? That was my first assignment in my "Colleague Seminar 2019." This assignment is not as easy as it sounds. And so, as any sensible pastor would do, I am sharing this assignment with all of you. If you had 3-5 minutes of someone's undivided attention, how would you describe our church?

The Apostle Paul used the analogy of the body to describe the early church; each body part has a function and they all work together to benefit the whole. Paul also described the church as non-discriminatory, "There is no Jew nor Greek, no male nor female..."

I have been describing our church as the "unity of the community." We are not just a place, but people who step out of our place to be the work of God in the community. Like the earliest church, we are non-discriminatory. Like the earliest church, we each have our roles and understand the necessity of those roles for the benefit of the whole. And in order to make the description personal, I always include a personal story. A story of challenge and acceptance, of openness and flexibility, of laughter and prayer.

Our mission statement, "We welcome all people to gather for worship, fellowship and to study God's word...we seek to be servants of our Lord in the care of all people" is accurate on both accounts; we welcome the community in and we work as servants in the community. What our mission statement does not say (and cannot say, just by the nature of the limits of a mission statement) is how we seem to be an intuitive church. We seem to know what someone needs and are able and willing to respond to that need with a sense of immediacy that is almost uncanny.

I would like to hear from each of you as to what your elevator speech is in regard to our church. Do you use a personal story? I would like each of you to work on your elevator speech so that we can share them in worship and in the community. So, dust off your notebooks and pencils and settle in for your first assignment. E-mail your "Elevator Speech" to me at pastorpampeter-son@gmail.com by November 1 for use throughout the month of November.

I know...an elevator ride in Red Lodge would be mighty short...but you never know where you will be and who you will be inviting along the way.

God is still Giving... God is still Speaking

Do you believe that is true here at Red Lodge Community Church? Look ardship around and lend your ear; God's gracious gifts surround us, and the Spirit nudges us daily to recognize God's voice in our own words and actions.

How do we sustain God's work? How do we insure that God's voice is heard in our community, be that our congregation, our county, our country or our whole wide world?

It takes action and resources. We are an active group of congregants with loving hearts and rich talents. And our home base for making sure that God continues to give and speak through us is Red Lodge Community Church. In order to experience inspiring worship and lively music, to grow our own faith and that of others, and to do the work of God in our community, requires financial resources in addition to our love, our talents, and our hard work.

That's what the pledge drive is about - providing the financial resources to sustain our home base within the bricks and mortar of this beautiful place where we are inspired to grow in God's love, and leave to spread that love and goodness as far and wide as we possibly can.

$186,000 is the financial cost for keeping God's home base here at Red Lodge Community Church on solid footing for the coming year. Your pledge is vital in helping the financial officers know we have the resources to make sure God's voice is still heard in this special place and that God's work continues within and beyond these walls.

You should have received a bucket brochure and pledge card in the last couple of weeks. If you did not, let the office know immediately (446-1444). Please consider thoughtfully what you feel you can give financially over the next year, You can return your pledge card by mail or drop it in the bucket as it is passed with the offering plates during the service the next few Sundays. Watch our progress toward our goal on the giant check in the entry. Thank you for keeping God's voice strong in this community. You make a difference.

Your Stewardship and Mission Committee

It is that time of year again, Harvest Dinner time. This year the annual Harvest Dinner will be held on November 3rd from 11:30 am until 5:00 pm.

Turkey and ham with all the trimmings: pies, salads and rolls will satisfy your taste buds beyond belief. The cost will be $10.00 for adults, $5.00 for children 6-12 ages, and 5 and under eat free.

There will be sign-up sheets in the Upper Room for all to sign up for your favorite duties to create this much anticipated community event. Don & Karen Kinney and Pam Schuessler are chairing the event and want to thank you so much for last year, and thank you in advance for signing up and helping this year.
